Mrs. J. H. Brown Died Friday Morning, Feb. 16

Her husband preceded her in death in 1934.

Mrs. Brown had been a member of the Baptist Church for many years. The funeral was held in the Neinda Baptist Church, Saturday afternoon, February 17, with the Rev. J. W. Cundieff in charge. Burial was in the Neinda Cemetery under the direction of the Barrow Company.

"VICTORY SHIP HOBBS" LAUNCHED IN CALIFORNIA

The Herald has told about Mrs. L. B. Pribble being called to sponsor the launching of the "Hobbs Victory Ship." Monday, Mr. Pribble was back home again on his job as mail carrier on Route One, out of Hamlin. He came by to show the Herald the elegant album presented to Mrs. Pribble, by the Permanente Ship Building Company of California. It was exceedingly interesting because it pictured in detail every highlight in the program of launching, and in every scene, Mr. and Mrs. Pribble proved able representatives of their proud City of Hobbs. The ship was named "Hobbs Victory" because that city has never had to pull off a "Bond Rally" to put over their quotas. This ship, too, was in honor of the many Hobbs' soldiers who were taken prisoners on Bataan, one of whom was Foy Pribble. Both of the Pribble boys, the other, Iris who is now in the Aleutians, were business men of Hobbs. Mr. Pribble is back on his job, looking better than ever, after his rest, his trip, and medical treatment.

A War Job Is Waiting For You In Washington, D. C.; Apply Now

An appeal for clerks, stenographers, and typists in Abilene to fill vital war jobs in the Headquarters of the Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C., is being made, according to Mrs. Ruby S. Mann and Mrs. Maurie M. Growdon, Civil Service Representatives, who are in Abilene recruiting civilian personnel for the War Department.

Transportation is paid by the War Department. Housing is arranged for girls upon arrival and they will be met at the Union Station in Washington by an Employee Counselor who will direct them to their quarters which have previously been reserved for them.

New employees are trained by the War Department in those subjects that will help them to attain the highest efficiency possible. To those employees who need more speed in shorthand and typing, refresher courses are offered while receiving full pay.

The civilian jobs in the Army Service Forces offer young people an unparalleled opportunity to work in Washington, D. C., Headquarters of the U.S.A. Trained Counselors are available at all times to give employees advice and assistance. There are two hundred churches in Washington in a program to give spiritual, cultural and social background to the Army Civilians.

To live in Washington during this martial period gives the advantages of seeing the State, War and Navy Departments in full war activities. A visit to Congress, the Supreme Court, The White House, the Cherry Blossoms will no longer be abstract pictures, but concrete experiences. For full information about these positions, you may see either Mrs. Mann or Mrs. Growdon at the United States Employment Service, in Abilene, from February 21 through March 10. All appointments will be made in conformance with WMC regulations.

Norman C. Gilbert Safe From Jap Prison

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gilbert, of Rt. 1, Hamlin, received a letter from their son, Norman C. Gilbert, last Monday, stating that he was free from the Japs' prison, and in American hands. Then on Wednesday, they received a message from the War Department that their son was in American hands and that his physical condition was fair. This was joyful news to these parents.

Young Gilbert volunteered for foreign service on March 3, 1941, and was sent to Hawaii where he trained two months, and at his request, was sent to the Philippines. He was captured May 6, 1942. Monday was the first time his parents had heard from him since Dec. 19, 1941. The Red Cross reported to them that Norman was a prisoner. This boy should be coming home soon.

TECH. SGT. HARVEY ELKINS VISITED IN HAMLIN SATURDAY

Well, Sir, the happiest, smilingest face we have seen in a long time was that of Tech. Sgt. Harvey J. Elkins, last Saturday afternoon. You see, Harvey had been keeping company with the "India Cows" for over two years, and it took him a long time to get to Hamlin after returning to the States last September. It would "tickle a monkey" to hear him tell about how he shuffled to get ready to come home on short notice. He said he remembered how some of the boys got as far as the ship side and then were called back, so he made the dust fly, and never felt easy until his ship started. After a long travel over much water, he completed his trip around the world, arriving at Camp Shelby, Miss., from the west.

He said, "I left this country from the East Coast, March, 1942, went across the Atlantic, around Africa and up to India...then after 30 months there with the army air force-es, I started home by way of Australia, and up across the Pacific to San Francisco, and by train to Camp Shelby...and now if that is not around the world, what is it?"

Harvey is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Elkins, well known in Hamlin. They now live in Orange, Texas, where Mr. Elkins is helping build ships. So when Harvey reached Camp Shelby, he had a short distance to go to see his parents. After 21 days, he went to Miami Beach where he said they treated returned soldiers like kings...there they had "everything" for 12 days, and then were sent to Myrtle Beach Army Air Base, S. C.

Sgt. Elkins has lost most of his hair, and maybe that is why his grins are so long. He weighs more than ever before, and he says all he has to do now is "wait to see what they will tell him to do next."

While in India, he met up with George Clay, Charles Alexander, and Miss Frances Ruth Bailey. Miss Bailey is a lieutenant and is head nurse of a large hospital. He saw her just before he came home.

Harvey has two brothers in service, Pvt. Raymond Elkins of the Marines, and Guy Elkins, GM 2/c, of the Navy. They are both in the Pacific somewhere.

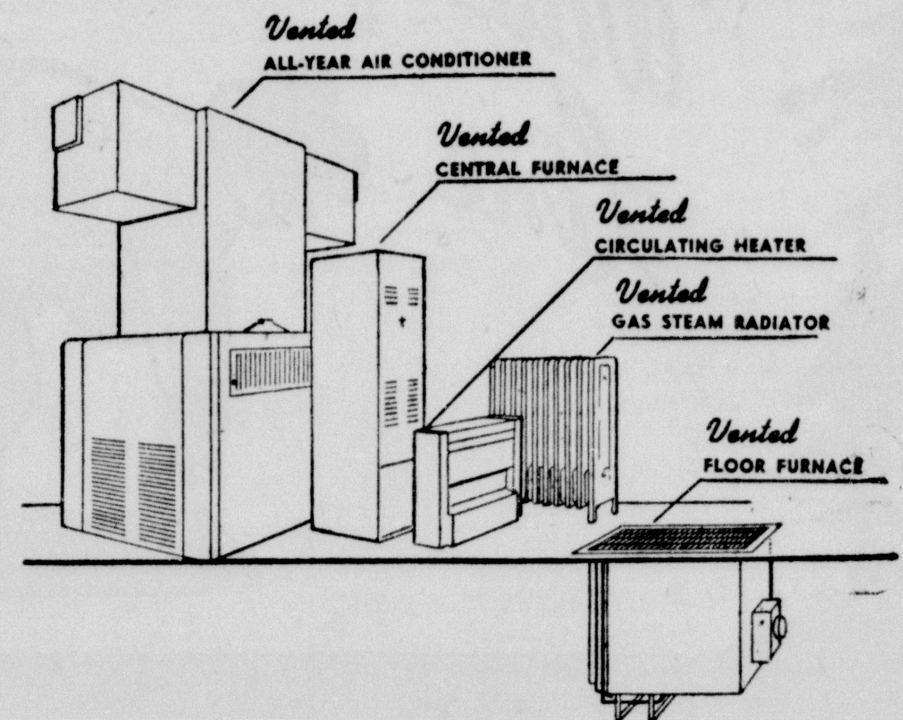

Visiting Mrs. Albert Maberry and children, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Andress and daughter of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Maberry, McCauley; Mrs. Ross E. Douglass and children, and Capt. Maberry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Maberry, of Sylvester; and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Andress of Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Holden were called to Austin because of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Blackmon. Mr. Holden returned but Mrs. Holden remained for a longer stay with her sister whose condition is still critical.

Seven per cent of the applications for insurance policies are rejected.

Here's the Modern Gas Heating You

VENT TO A FLUE

Proper heating requires that appliances be vented to a flue. The appliances illustrated above are types that are vented. For this reason your gas company recommends them, for only with heaters that are vented to a flue can you enjoy natural gas heat at its best. Only when appliances are vented are wall sweating and stuffy air eliminated. Plan healthful, modern heat—vented heat—for your new postwar home. Make sure there will be enough flues.

The Mark of a Properly Heated Home

One of the identifying marks of a comfortable home is the flue showing in the roof. It is necessary to vent modern gas heaters and only with modern gas heaters do you enjoy freedom from wall sweating and stuffy air.

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE RE-

CONNAISSANCE STATION, England —Sergeant Welton R. Jameson, 23, of Hamlin, is one of the vast crew of ground technicians needed to keep Eighth Air Force planes in the air on their around-the-clock missions over enemy territory. A power turret mechanic, he works on B-17 Flying Fortresses, repairing and maintaining their gun turrets so that they may defend themselves from enemy attack.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Barto Jameson, Hamlin, Sgt. Jameson is a graduate of Dowell High School of Rotan and was a stock farmer before entering the army in October, 1942. He attended armament school at Lowry Field, Colorado, and power turret school at Detroit, Michigan, and has been overseas since December, 1943. (Passed by Field Press Censor.)

S&S

The Herald has a communication from an Eighth Air Force bomber station telling about the part a Hamlin boy, Corporal Elmer Terry Cooper, a cook, took in feeding the crews of 70 aircraft (about 800 men) who were forced down by bad weather. Just another case of "company coming in unlooked-for." Well, it seems everything works out for the best. Cooper learned to cook around the chuck wagon on the Fisher County ranches, and now he dishes out the army chow to a different kind of "sky-cow-boy." Stay in there, Terry, and keep 'em full of chuck.

Lynna Jenkins Honored With Valentine Party

Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bessire on Alamo Avenue, was opened to a group of youngsters when their daughter, Kay Kraigolyn, entertained with a party honoring Lynna Jenkins of San Angelo.

Guests were received in the living room by the hostess. Decorations of red hearts bearing the words "Be Mine" in white, were placed at vantage points throughout the entertaining rooms.

A few short piano selections were given and games were played. At the conclusion of the games, guests were invited to the dining room where Valentines were given to the girls and duplicate Valentines were given to the boys, and couples with matching Valentines were served together.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and blooming plants decorated both the table and buffet. A Valentine motif was used in all appointments, and the register was a lovely handmade red and white heart-shaped book.

Refreshments consisting of heart-shaped cookies in red and white, ice cream topped with cherries, and a large red and white heart-shaped cake were served to Lynna Jenkins, Charles Bennicker, Frankie Sue Madden, Joe Allen Dean, Rose Marie Brady, Donald Green, Gwyna Lou Lofland, James Maberry, Patricia Rimmer, Frank Albert Tucker, Kay Kraigolyn Bessire, and Donald Rowland.

The hostess presented the honoree with a large heart-shaped box of chocolate candy.

Lt. John Henry Vaughan, aviation pilot, from Savannah, Ga., came up by way of Fort Worth and Denton last week end, to get a short furlough at home "before" the Day, for which he has been training, arrives. Lt. Vaughan was accompanied by his brother, Sammie Joe, of Fort Worth, and by Miss Joan Culbertson of T.S.C.W., Denton. This young Hamlinite has developed into a real man since he left here, and especially since he began his training. He now weighs 185 pounds. That's a lot of weight for a B-25 and its gas and bombs. Well, good luck, John Henry. We'll all be looking for you to come back some day.

V. T. Stringer, sailorman with the rating of SK 3/c, writes us from "somewhere" which appears to be in the Pacific. He says: "Just a few words to let you know that I am out of the hospital and 'fit as a fiddle'... I would like very much to tell you my new duties and whereabouts... I am allowed to tell absolutely nothing. To some of the folks back home, that sounds foolish, but to us it is very important secrecy... Needless to say, I miss all the folks in the good old USA, especially the most beautiful part of it, Texas... As a matter of fact, I am so homesick, I have a temperature all the time." (O.K., "Nig," this letter will remind all of us Hamlinites that you can do a lot of things besides shuffle figures about cotton out at the Hamlin Compress. Let's hope that before long you will be at home with your wife and babies and friends.)

S&S

Bill Milliron, S 1/c, sends the Herald a short note filled with optimism. Bill is proud of his ship's record in the Pacific. He says: "I wish the people of Hamlin could see just what I am looking at right now. But the censor will not let us write what we would like to. So I will say I work seven days per week and am very glad to do it. I feel sorry for some draft dodgers when this war is over. All I am looking forward to is getting back to family. I break the record in getting papers... my wife sends them by air mail and I get them in about ten days." (So that's another old Hamlin boy heard from out on the Pacific.)

No doubt, we have been too wasteful with our food supplies the last few months. We had been told by a host of bureaucrats that an abundance of food was available and most of us "pitched in" and were almost back to prewar eating—now that we know the planned food program has resulted in limited supplies on the fighting line—even rationing of food being in effect on some fronts—the American people will not only accept fair play rationing, but will make it work so that the service men will get additional food.

To do this, every kitchen must be placed on wartime basis—this covers not only watchful purchasing and preparation of food, but also the extremely important saving of fats.

When everything is going along fine, many people easily forget their wartime programs, but in the production and delivery of electricity a permanent fight against waste is a necessity—with taxes mounting as in other businesses, and sometimes more in ours—continued maintenance of low electric rates necessitates the watchfulness of everyone in our organization for economy possibilities—we are holding our lines—and our customers in the ample use of electrical energy are fully cognizant that our war effort will not suffer as the result.

'Think on these things'

HONESTY IN RELIGION

Honesty is one of the greatest virtues one can possess. The Bible repeatedly demands it of every child of God. However, in the matter of the salvation of one's soul, it is not all sufficient.

People often mistake honesty for the whole requirement of God. "Just so a man is honest," we hear it said, "he is all right. He will make it to heaven."

Religion is the only thing in this world in which people will believe that honesty is the only essential to being safe and right. Here is a traveller. He wants to go to a certain place and thinks he is on the right road. He is honest and sincere. But he is going in the wrong direction. Does his honesty in believing he is right bring him to the desired destination? Certainly not, and no one would so affirm.

Why then, do we expect a rule to work in religion that certainly will not work anywhere else? Surely, such reasoning is not good. The Bible tells of many occasions in which people were honestly mistaken, and also reveals the fact that dire consequences follow mistakes, whether honest or otherwise.

Take the young prophet in I Kings 13 for example. (Please turn now and read this account; you will miss the value of this article if you do not.) He was honest in his convictions and proved it by going from Judah to Bethel to denounce Jeroboam for his idolatry. He further proved he desired to do God's will by refusing to eat, drink or dwell in the land, and by determining to return another way, as God had directed.

But as he had fulfilled his assignment, and was returning as per instructions, an old prophet intercepted him and lied to him, saying that God had changed his orders and that the young prophet was to return with him to Bethel and eat. Sincerely and honestly, the young prophet believed him, and as a result, incurred the wrath of God and brought about his own death. Honestly alone was not enough. God warns: "Be not deceived." John said: "Believe not every spirit, but try the spirits, whether they are of God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world." I John 4:1.

Saul of Tarsus is another example of the same thing; mistaken honesty. "I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day," he declared in Jerusalem. (Acts 23:1) Certainly he had been honest all along but in his honesty by his own statement he was found to be the chief of sinners and said, "beyond measure I persecuted the church of God and wasted it."

Sure, he was honest, had deep convictions, was zealous and sincere. But he was wrong. Jesus said to him: "Why persecutest thou me?" He had to believe in the Christ whom he was persecuting and was required "to be baptized and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Acts 22:16. Honesty was not enough. Obedience was essential.

Nothing is more reasonable than true religion. God said: "Come now and let us reason together. Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land; but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured by the sword, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it." (Isa. 1: 18-20)

God says: "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." Prov. 14:12.

The very fact that God provides the Bible for us to read is proof positive that honesty alone is not enough. He expects us to have the information. He wants us to know the right way. He expects intelligent obedience of every accountable soul who is going to heaven.

The Apostle Peter says, "but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear." (I Peter 3:15). Paul says, "And to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that OBEY NOT THE GOSPEL OF OUR LORD JESUS: who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might." (II Thes. 1:7-9). Jesus himself said: "Not every one that sayeth unto me Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of heaven; but he that DOETH the will of my father who is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21). Beloved, have we done it or have we just honestly but blindly done something else. May we examine the trade mark on our religion and accept no substitutes.

POT-SHOTS FROM McCauley

BY GEO DARDEN

Visiting in the home of their grandmother, Mrs. S. F. Mason, on Sunday were Capt. and Mrs. R. C. Giles of Abilene. (This news a week late, for the simple reason that Miss Gertie didn't let us know.)

A large crowd attended the Texaco Free Show at the school house last Thursday night. It was a good show as well as being educational. The pictures and sound equipment were extraordinary. Free prizes were given after the show, and hot coffee and doughnuts were served at the lunch room, all with the compliments of the Texas Company. Thanks to the Texas Company and O. D. Roland, local distributor of the company's products, and his associates for an enjoyable evening.

Thanks to Mrs. J. H. Cook, of Sylvester, for a year's subscription to the Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson are the proud parents of a daughter, born February 14, in a Rotan hospital. Mrs. Johnson is the former Christene Burnham.

On Tuesday night, March 6, at the McCauley school house, there will be an auction sale of cakes, pies, etc., for the benefit of the Red Cross drive for this community. Every one is urged to come, and the ladies are asked to bring pies and cakes. This community has never let the boys down, nor has the Red Cross.

Lt. and Mrs. Bill Pickron, of Fort Sumner, N. M., visited parents in Hamlin and McCauley over the week end. They were on their way to Dalhart, Texas, where Lt. Pickron will await further orders.

Alf Hemphill buys saddle and bargains for an unbroken horse. The horse wouldn't lead home, and friends "kid" Alf about buying a saddle with nothing to ride but a fence. Perhaps the horse has heard the No. 1 Hit Parade song, "Don't Fence Me In."

Mrs. J. W. Rush left this week for Fort Worth, to be with a sister who is ill in that city.

Two nephews of Ben Short have recently been killed in action. They were brothers and were killed within a few days of each other in Germany. Our sincere sympathy to the bereaved families.

The young people's Sunday School class of the Methodist Church gave a party, Wednesday night, in the home of Mrs. Byron Maberry, honoring Bennie Ray Jones who is going into the Army. After a number of games were played, refreshments were served to Clara Jo Lawliss, Patsey Maberry, Mary Francis Cozart, Bernice Cox, Mrs. B. L. Smith, Mary Lou Maberry, Arella Maberry, Bennie Ray and Johnnie Max Jones, Alfred Ray Griffin, James Edward Lawliss, Buddy Shields, Paul Waldrop, Johnnie Wayne Waldrop, Omie Cox, Harley Wayne Maberry, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Maberry.

The McCauley Eagles won second place in the district basketball tournament held at Hermleigh, Feb. 16 and 17. In the first game, the Eagles defeated Sylvester 19 to 18. In the semi-finals, the Eagles won from Hermleigh 17 to 12. In the finals, the Eagles were defeated by a powerful Highland team, 41 to 10. Bobby George Maberry was selected as center on the all-district team. The following boys saw action during the tournament: Joe Houghton, Charlie Lee, Bobby Maberry, Johnnie Jones, Gerald Berry, Russell Kid, and John Canter.

that danger threatens. Only universal military service will provide the strength we need. The time to face the fact is now, while the lessons of our past unpreparedness are fresh on our minds. If we postpone it until after the war, we are merely reaching for the needle again. The whole world is all but turned upside down. Hunger hovers over all of Europe.
